

The day you come to the hospital, you will not be able to eat or drink anything before your operation. When you go to sleep during the operation, your stomach needs to be empty so it won't get upset.

