

On the way home, you can think about your favorite things to play with. You may need to rest for a short time, but you will soon be able to do all the things that you like best.

Draw a picture of your home!